

Oxford Hungarian Society

Michaelmas Term 2001

Monday 8 October, 8 p.m., Lincoln College bar

A very informal social to begin the year. Come along and meet members of the society old and new, by kind arrangement with Stuart Schulzke.

Thursday 18 October, 8 p.m., MacGregor Room, Oriel College

Hungarian-born British actor Sándor Éles reads his personal selection of 19th and 20th century Hungarian poetry in English translation and a few in the original, with a brief review of the poets and the climate in which the poems were created.

Thursday 1 November, 8 p.m., MacGregor Room, Oriel College

'Spirited Farming':

Agrarian Reform and the Abolition of Hungary's Feudal System

Historian György Kurucz shows how English ideas and techniques played a crucial part in transforming Hungary's economy and society in the age of Reform.

Wednesday 7 November, 8 p.m., MacGregor Room, Oriel College

The Milling Revolution : A 19th-Century Success Story

György Balázs, deputy director of the Ethnographical Museum, Budapest, takes us back to the era when Hungary's flour mills were the envy of Europe.

Monday 12 November, 8 p.m., MacGregor Room, Oriel College

Ireland and Hungary : a Study in Parallels

Thomas Kabdebo, writer and historian, shows how much modern Irish nationalism owed to the Hungarian model.

Friday 23 November, 8 p.m., at Kellogg College (Rewley House)

Private Hungary

A collection of home movies, specially edited by the well-known documentary film director Péter Forgács, which provide intimate and moving insights into life in Hungary before, during and after the Second World War. (English subtitles)

Friday 30 November, 6 p.m., St Giles House, St John's College

Mikulás Party

Our traditional bring-and-share seasonal social occasion, by kind invitation of Zoltán Molnár. Bring family and friends!

The OXFORD HUNGARIAN SOCIETY exists for all those interested in matters Hungarian. Please keep this programme and show it to anyone else who might like to attend. We have no membership fee, but ask for contributions to defray our not inconsiderable expenses (minimum £5 per term suggested, students £2). Cheques made out to 'Oxford Hungarian Society' can be sent to Kati Evans, Bodleian Library, Oxford OX1 3BG (please use form below).
